

SingPost appoints Noel Singgih as Group Chief Information Officer

03-08-2022

Singapore Post Limited (SingPost), Asia Pacific's leading eCommerce logistics provider and Singapore's national postal service operator, has appointed Noel Singgih as its Group Chief Information Officer (CIO) in July 2022.

With more than 20 years of experience under his belt, Mr Singgih joins SingPost Group's management team from DHL Supply Chain, where he was last appointed as the unit's Chief Information Officer for Asia Pacific. In his decade-long tenure with DHL, Mr Singgih held several key leadership roles, amassing a wealth of expertise in developing IT solutions for global customers.

Mr Vincent Phang, SingPost's Group CEO, said: "We are incredibly excited to have Noel join us after an extensive search. Noel's leadership and credentials are well regarded in the logistics and technology space, and we look forward to Noel elevating SingPost's digital capabilities as we build the future of logistics."

Mr Singgih said he is privileged to be a part of SingPost's leadership team. "The diversity of SingPost's businesses across the globe provides a great opportunity to leverage technology, creating synergy and fostering closer collaboration across its operations in the 15 markets it serves, all to drive business further.

"This is an opportunity for us to transform and elevate the value we bring to our customers and their customers, connecting the world through every delivery that we do. I'm heartened to be part of this team to take the lead in SingPost's digital transformation efforts and create progressive solutions for our customers' logistics needs," shared Mr Singgih.

Source: SingPost