

Amazon to install parcel lockers at Whole Foods stores after $13.7bn acquisition

25-08-2017

Amazon is celebrating regulatory approval for its $13.7 billion acquisition of US group Whole Foods Markets, which will close on Monday (August 28), with lower prices and plans for parcel collection lockers at its new US retail subsidiary. The move comes as the e-commerce giant continues to open more fulfilment centres in the USA and around the world, and tests innovative new delivery services.
