CTT elected the most attractive company to work for in Portugal in the Transport and Delivery sector

19-05-2025

CTT â€“ Correios de Portugal was elected, for the second consecutive year, the most attractive company to work for in Portugal in the Transport and Delivery sector, according to the Randstad Employer Brand Research 2025 ranking.

This distinction reflects CTT's commitment to providing a good working environment, where each employee can feel valued and motivated to grow and contribute to the success of the organization.

Every year, Randstad Employer Brand Research analyses key trends in the job market and highlights the most attractive companies and sectors to work for in various countries, including Portugal. The survey assessed several variables, including salary, work-life balance and a good working environment, for example.

This year marks the 10th anniversary of the aforementioned study, which included 173,000 participants, spread across 34 markets (75% of the global economy) and more than 6,000 companies.

CTT is a multi-service postal operator, recognised for its quality, efficiency and value creation. The principles and policies adopted by the Company serve as references for all daily activities, also promoting the reconciliation of professional, family and personal life, which contributes to the promotion of gender equality. These practices have already led to CTT being certified as a Family Responsible Company.
