With nominations open to professionals across the industry and from every region, competition is intense, making this award a genuine mark of international distinction. Past winners have included many of the world's leading logistics and postal organizations, confirming the awards' reputation as a definitive measure of excellence.

"We're truly honored to receive this award and appreciate it a lot. Innovation and transformation are never easy – change takes courage and persistence – but this recognition and our progress as the company shows that it's all worth it. We're deeply grateful to everyone who has been part of our journey. We will continue to innovate, strengthen our presence in export markets, and deliver new services and solutions for our clients. That's a promise we intend to keep," said Martti Kuldma, CEO of Omniva Group.

Over the past few years, Omniva has introduced new services – including same-day delivery, crowd courier, and community boxes – while maintaining a strategic focus on international logistics, PUDO services, and digital transformation.
