Locky installs world's first solar-powered locker

27-05-2025

Locky, a company belonging to the CTT â€“ Correios de Portugal group, has installed the first solar-powered Locky locker at the Lidl Infante Dom Henrique store in Lisbon, thus reinforcing the companyâ€™s commitment to sustainability. The 16-compartment locker is now accessible to all consumers for receiving parcels.

This is a pilot project that, for now, will only accept orders placed using the CTT Virtual Address service . To use this service and receive orders in this locker, simply register on the CTT website or app and choose the Locky Lidl Infante D. Henrique locker. At this point, a virtual address is generated that the customer can use for their purchases, replacing their physical address. When the order is delivered, the customer will receive a code by email or SMS that they must enter in Locky to collect it.

“In line with CTT’s brand values, offering increasingly sustainable solutions is also at the heart of Locky’s strategic development. Solar energy is one of the most important and promising forms of renewable energy today, with significant environmental, economic and social impacts. With the growth of e-commerce, sustainable deliveries are becoming essential for a greener, more efficient and socially responsible future”, highlights Locky’s CEO, Francisco Travassos.

Locky and Lidl Portugal have been in partnership since 2020, with the aim of offering consumers ever more convenience, allowing customers to collect their online purchases from the brand's stores.

Through Locky, the CTT Group currently has the largest network of smart lockers in Portugal (more than 1000) for receiving, sending and returning parcels.

Locky lockers are part of the Collectt network, the CTT Group's new brand that brings together all parcel delivery and collection points in the Iberian Peninsula. Currently with over 20,000 Pick & Drop points, the Collectt network guarantees a more sustainable local service for the collection, sending and returns of express parcels. In addition to Locky lockers, this network is made up of CTT Stores and Points in Portugal and Payshop Agents present throughout the country. In Spain, Collectt Express is supported by partner networks with a significant presence in the country.

All Locky locker locations, as well as a guide to their use, can be found on the Locky website.
