

Delayed Brexit deal threatens British trade, warn logistics and business leaders

19-10-2018

Logistics companies urgently need clear planning advice as continuing delays over a UK-EU Brexit deal hits British trade prospects, according to the logistics industry and business leaders. The Freight Transport Association (FTA), which represents the entire UK logistics sector, has reacted with frustration to the lack of progress in Brexit negotiations this week, while a survey by the British Chambers of Commerce (with DHL Express) revealed that companies are delaying decisions amid ongoing uncertainty.
