

Croatian Post becomes IPC member

04-07-2019

On 1 July 2019, Croatian Post joined International Post Corporation as a member, following a decision of IPC's shareholders meeting which took place in Bonn on 23 May.

more than 150,000 customers per day. Croatian Post, which introduced a new logo and visual identity last week, is seeing significant new investments. The most important investment worth almost €50m is the construction of a new sorting centre near Velika Gorica.

Croatian Post is organised in four divisions:

- The Postal Service Division is in charge of transport, sorting and delivery of postal items.
- The Network Division manages the network of post offices.
- The Express Services Division is in charge of express delivery
- The Support Services Division is in charge of real property, IT infrastructure, accounting, controlling, maintenance and modernisation of post offices.

On 1 July 2019, Croatian Post joined International Post Corporation as a member, following a decision of IPC's shareholders meeting which took place in Bonn on 23 May.

Croatian Post was founded as an independent company in 1999. With 1,016 post offices throughout the country, Croatian Post counts more than 10,000 employees and serves

At the 2019 IPC Annual Conference Croatian Post's CEO, Ivan Culo, gave an interview. Click here to watch it.