“Voting is one of our most important civic duties as citizens. Each state is responsible for their own rules regarding mail-in ballots and the requirements for validity vary greatly from state to state.

applicable laws and regulations. All eligible voters should speak with state authorities who set the rules to see if they will accept a ballot if delivered by a private express carrier.”
